TRANSCRIPT BUILDING, BANK STREET, NORTH ADAMS, MASS.

Know not what record of sin exists in the other world; but this I do know, that I never saw a man as to despise a man because he was poor, because he was ignorant, or because he was black.

SPECIAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Besides the telegraphic service of the American Press Association, THE TRANSCRIPT receives regularly the general dispatches of the United Press, giving the general news of the country and the world, and the special dispatches of the New England Associated Press, the oldest and best news gathering agency in New England, or to be going to press.

TEN HOURS LATER.

Than any other newspaper in Western Mass.
Entered at the Post Office, North Adams, Mass., as second class mail matter.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 9, 1895.

ABOUT REPRESENTATIVES.

We quote in part from a Boston letter to the Springfield Republican regarding the make-up of our state legislature as affected by the recent election. We reprint here a part of the article because it contains a truth we have again and again contended for, namely, the benefit of keeping our legislators at Boston more than one year or two years when the right men have been found for the place. Nor do we reprint this article either to the disparagement of Berkshire's new members or as advocating the future retention of any individual member at Boston, but as the expression of a right principle. As is pointed out, the country districts will remain at a disadvantage in the legislature just so long as their representatives are being changed from year to year, and all the experience of law making rests with the old city members who understand the ins and outs, the "pulls" and "counter pulls" of the general court. The Republican says:

The people of Massachusetts are to be congratulated for their good sense in returning to the Legislature a larger proportion of experienced members than usual.
For a term of years the average has been that about one-third of the old members would be returned for further service.
The returns now at hand, which do not include two districts, show just an even 100 of old members who have been re-elected. There will be one or two more than this when the official list is made up.

But still the improvement is only partial.
As one runs the eye down the list, it is seen that the starred names of the re-elected members are in the city delegations, while the country members, as usual, are a green set. Occasional exceptions are found, as if the people of the rural districts were gradually learning from the wisdom of their city brethren, but still they have much to learn.
Just look at Worcester county, for instance. The delegation from Worcester county is all re-elected, except two, six out of the eight. But, except Mr. Barber of Athol, there is not an experienced man in the entire county list.

Franklin county presents a solid list of veterans. This is an instance of which this county is frequently guilty, and it does not seem to learn by experience. It kept Mr. Under of Greenfield here more than one term and it has re-elected his son, who has most wisely done this year, but it still clings to the policy of taking turns among the towns, at the expense of weight in legislation. Generalization is to be made of the Hampshire county list, though Mr. Irwin, who has been re-elected, is the only one of the county who has been re-elected. Berkshire returns only the two members from the city of Pittsfield, the country towns taking their turn in the evil system of rotation. Barnstable is just as bad, though it is not so big to be seen. Hampden county returns only city men for further service.

"Of course the country towns must expect to be the tail of the city kite, and it is not wholly unreasonable to the city that they get the best end of the legislation where there are issues between city and country. If it were not for making discriminations unreasonably, it would be easy to go through the list of two members of 1895 and pick out many who would doubtless serve the state better on a second year than the successors can on a second year. But it is the part of the living to suppose, and it is the country man's duty to suppose, that the city want to dance that kind of a dance, they must pay the piper out of their own pockets, and they will do it."

SOME CHANGES.

There are some interesting facts connected with President Cleveland's sway of Democratic power. They are such facts as lead one to believe that Grover Cleveland is not a unifying or solidifying party leader, but is a disorganizer. This is not a charge that emanates from the Republican party, but it comes most bitterly from the Democrats themselves.
We quote here a Democratic organ of strong propensities, which puts the sad side of the Democratic case in a nutshell and insinuates Mr. Cleveland's responsibility for his party's condition. The strongly Democratic Elmira Gazette says:

"At the beginning of the suspicious era of Grover Cleveland, the Democratic party held the gubernatorial office in twenty-six states.

"Since the beginning of Mr. Cleveland's term the Democratic party has lost the governorships of the following states: Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee (on the face of the returns), West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

"The Democratic party has also lost the Senate and House of Representatives. The Republican majorities in the leading states of the Union average above the hundred thousand mark."

The Gazette desires to know who decides these elections and who has caused all these changes? If this journal were to answer its own question it would say: "Grover Cleveland is to blame."

We cannot help observing that the Whitehall Times of Cambridge, N. Y., a rabid Democratic paper, follows its leading editorial this week, "The Result," with an editorial on "The Study of Narcotics." We can hardly blame our Democratic contemporary in New York state for turning to the serious consideration at this time of a list of drugs in which is included all alcoholic drinks, morphine, opium, etc. Never could the Democratic soul turn more longingly to soothing potions than now.

Though tardy, perhaps, the TRAN-SCRIPT wishes to extend its congratulations to the Pittsfield Eagle for the splendid daily fight which it put up for Mr.

Fuller. The Republican sheriff came had no stauncher or abler support than that which emanated from the Eagle's sanctum during the entire campaign. The Eagle's pen might well be called the bright sword ex-calibur of the campaign.

The French people of North Adams rejoice with other Republicans in Tuesday's victory. The Independent, the local French organ, in this week's issue says:
"The Republicans of this state and this town have reason to rejoice. They have won a victory that will be of great importance in next year's presidential campaign. We expected the success of our candidates but not so great a victory as was achieved. We congratulate the candidates on possessing the confidence of the people, and the Republican party still gives proof of its wisdom and its regard always for public opinion."

When the race is run and the office won.
And a fellow has time for thought, It's well and wise to philosophize And see what the office brought.
But it's ten to one that it won't be fair, However your mind may will it;
The game's your pride, but it's time beside
The shot that it took to kill it!
—Exchange.

OUR CHARMING SCENERY.

An Illustrated Descriptive Article to Appear in the Bicycling World.

Fenton S. Fox of Chicago, western manager of the advertising department of the Bicycling World, published at Boston, spent two weeks in this town last summer. Mr. Fox is a lover of nature and was delighted with the beauty of the natural scenery hereabouts. He visited the Natural Bridge and tramped over many of the hills and was enthusiastic in his admiration of the town and its charming environments. He is a veteran newspaper man, and after leaving the town he decided to write a descriptive article for the Bicycling World. He requested Mr.
Patton to secure and forward photographs of all the principal points of interest here, including a view of the Hoosac mountain, the tower on Greylock, etc., which was done, and the article, handsomely illustrated, will appear in the Christmas number of the paper. Mr. Fox represents, in view of the writer's experience and his intense admiration of the beauties of this section, the article will undoubtedly be one of exceptional interest.

A CHALLENGE.

Poets are silent, sir, you say?
But, hark ye, I would ask you, pray, Dost any seed bear flower or fruit Without a growing time? The root Must first push out in silence; then "As Aaron's rod blooms poet's pen!"

Thoughts are his seeds—so soft they stir, Still in the dark held prisoner.
He scarce dare draw his breath for fear The embryo's lost. How should he steer Through danger, then, his guiding star, While all his faculties strive for birth?

Have patience with the tortuous root That toils in darkness ere a shoot May rise to gladden watchful eye Or merge in earth's fertility.
A poet's verse, as light as air?
Ah, sir, it's root is otherwise!" Edith C.
Adams.

PETER STUYVESANT.

His Experience With the Nine Men of New Amsterdam.

When Peter Stuyvesant arrived in New Amsterdam as the director general he strutted about like a peacock, "as if he were the czar of Muscovy," as a chronicler puts it. He was called "Pegleg Pete," from his wooden leg with its silver bands, or "hard kopple Plet"—Peter the hard headed.

Stuyvesant had strict orders to give the people a share in the government of the town. So he called an election of 18 men by the settlers in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Amsterdam and Pavonia, and of the 18 he selected nine, who were the first representatives of popular government in these parts. And a hard enough time they had of it with hard kopple Plet.

The nine grappled with the liquor problem. "Almost one full fourth part of the town of New Amsterdam" was devoted to saloons, which sold liquor to visiting Indians and made of the little town a sort of hole on earth. Then, as later, white men also sold firearms to the Indians as well as liquor. One of the nine did this. Even the agent of the Rensselaer, the patron of Albany, did so until Stuyvesant sent troops to persuade him otherwise. But Stuyvesant did the same thing himself in spite of prohibition by the home government.

When the nine quarreled with Stuyvesant about taxes there was trouble. They electioned from house to house against Stuyvesant, and he retaliated by throwing their secretary, Adriaen van der Donck, into jail. The nine sent an appeal to Holland, and good and wise was it in its terms. They asked:

First.—Abolition of power by the Dutch company in favor of the states general.

Second.—A public school with at least two good masters.

Third.—For godly, honorable and intelligent rulers, because a covetous governor makes poor subjects.

The states general fairly tried to remedy matters, but Stuyvesant was too far away to restrain. He drove the nine out of their official new in church, arrested Van der Donck, his vice director, persecuted the Lutherans and the Quakers, stirred up Indian insurrections and in general conducted himself like the obstinate old man he was.

Popular government began indeed with the nine, but it took more than 100 years and two revolutions to establish it thoroughly.—New York Recorder.

Business and Theology.

The congregation of a church in Scotland finding itself unable to pay the salary of its minister, a soap firm offered to pay $500 a year for five years, on condition that its advertisement be hung in front of the gallery of the church. The offer was accepted. And now the congregation can learn how to be morally and physically clean at the same time.—New York Tribune.

Smoke and Bacteria.

Professor Hajak of Vienna has declared that smokers are less liable to diphtheria and other throat diseases than nonsmokers in the ratio of 1 to 28. The learned Dr.
Schiff also gives us to understand that smoking is always positively forbidden in bacteriological laboratories, because it is known to hinder the development of the bacteria.

Birmingham, England, is the greatest brass making town in the world, and it keeps in steady employment an average of 7,000 brass workers. Paris comes in a good second.

One principal reason why men are so often useless is that they divide and shift their attention among a multiplicity of objects and pursuits.—Ramon

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—The Berkshire Dental association will meet at The Wilson Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

—The directors of the Y. M. C. A. will meet this evening in the association building at 7:30 o'clock.

—J. H. Plagg has fitted up the lady's waiting room which is attached to his office in a very tasty manner.

—The Friday Evening Whist club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Deane Burbank of Cherry street last evening.

—C. V. Heen of the Holyoke Belting company was engaged last night in repairing the largest belts in Bartlett's mill.

—There was a pretty sight at the Methuist church last Sunday when it is hoped will be duplicated tomorrow. It was sixty little children all out at Sunday school.

—The Dry club social and dance held last evening was a very pleasant social affair and well attended. There were selections by quartets and there were solos besides.

—Miss Sadie Lannon an employee of the Windsor print works and part of the third finger of her right hand crushed in a folding machine at the works this morning. Dr. Dewey dressed her injuries.

—L. S. Brown is getting up something new and useful as an advertising card.
On large cards there will be maps of the various wards of the city. The maps will be complete in detail. The cards are to be distributed at every house in town.

—All members of the Boys' branch of the Y. M. C. A. are invited to attend the pop corn treat to be given in the rooms this evening. The kitchen will be the scene of the fun as the boys will pop the corn themselves. The time set for the popping is 7 o'clock.

—The work of moving the Postal telegraph poles away from the street railroad graph poles here and Williamstown is nearly completed and would have been finished yesterday had it not been for a delay for which Mr. Haskins and his men were not responsible.

—The town committees which call the municipal caucuses must give the selection ten days notice to appoint proper places in which to hold the caucuses.
When the selectmen have chosen such places for the Republicans the Republican committee will then call the caucuses.

—A game of football will be played on the fair grounds next Tuesday by the Arms academy team of Shelburn Falls and the Drury high school team of this town. These teams played at Shelburn Falls last Tuesday and the Drury won 10 to 9. The teams being so evenly matched the game ought to be an interesting one.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hayden of Red Hills were greatly surprised last evening by forty friends from this town walking uninvited into their home. As the day was their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary the intrusion was pardoned. A handsome book case was presented to them and a very pleasant evening was spent.

—There has been some response to the notices sent out by Tax Collector Tyler, asking for the immediate remittance of poll taxes. Mr. Tyler is not satisfied at the attention given to the letters. It will be with reluctance that he invokes the law as his assistant but he has decided to do so unless the taxes are forthcoming.

—Sixteen young ladies called on Mrs.
Annie Lally of 14 North street last evening. The fact of their calling was not strange to Mrs. Lally, but they were very unexpected and furthermore were all disguised by masks, fancy and odd costumes.
Their identity was not revealed to their hosts until refreshments were served.

—Although a masquerade surprise is a novel way of entertaining, all reported a very pleasant time.

—Cleveland Hemenway of Patton's jewelry store has been trying his hand at fine work again. It will be remembered that a year or two ago he made a noose of a human hair by drilling a hole through the hair and drawing the end through, which was considered fine enough work for ordinary purposes. This time Mr.
Hemenway exercised his ingenuity on three small needles which he has put together so that two of them resemble the arms of a small windmill, while the third forms the shaft on which they turn. This third needle has a hinge at the center, and, taken altogether, it is a fine and curious piece of work.

—The past week has been one of the warmest on records for the time of year, and the humidity and warmth combined have been a strong reminder of dog days.
Fires have been allowed to go out, overcoats have been cast aside by many, windows and doors have been thrown open and "Indian Summer" has been a strong rival of the regular article. Yesterday the streets were full of horses covered with lather and flies were more or less troublesome, while at night the millers were playing about the street lights as in summer. Such warmth in November is remarkable and shows to what extremes the weather in this part of the country is liable to go in any direction.

—Blindfold Hodskins has sold his brewery on Brooklyn street and retired from business on account of ill health, he having suffered seriously from rheumatism for the last year or two. For about thirty years Mr. Hodskins has brewed his famous English ale in this town, and it has probably been more frequently prescribed by local physicians than any other beer, as it was known to be strictly pure. Mr. Hod-skins took great pride in his product and endeavored to bring it as near perfection as possible, and how he succeeded is well known by those who have used his ale as a beverage or for medicinal purposes.
The purchasers of the brewery are A. B.
Moore and A. E. Murray of this town, who will continue the business under the firm name of Moore & Murray.

Cure For Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habit-ual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only

TOWN TALK.

Visit of Dr. Sweet to North Adams.
Judging from the tenor of our multitude of exchanges, Dr. Sweet's Massachusetts tour has almost, if not quite reached the dimensions of an ovation.
Never before in the annals of our state has a broader, deeper and more enduring sensation been created in the "art of healing" than has attended the almost triumphal march of this distinguished medical expert throughout the old Bay State.
Straight-laced and blue-blooded newspapers of the most conservative stripe, unwitting to lauding the medical stranger within their gates, suddenly appear in double headed articles of generous proportions recounting how the multitude of invalids that besiege his hospitable doors are compelled to retire to the public halls to consult the doctor.

The wonderful improvement of every case the doctor accepts testifies that the enthusiasm he has aroused in this state on health matters, is spreading even beyond our border. Men gifted with the healing art, who can work such wonderful results cannot fail to awaken the world to a full realization of their heaven bestowed power. All hall to those who can bind up the wounds of the despairing and broken hearted; that can transform the look of agony into gladsome smiles of joy; that can trans-mute disease into bounding health and sorrow into unalloyed happiness. Thrice welcome. From whatever land he comes if he bears a balm or soothing unguent for poor stricken humanity he is indeed welcome.

New and Choice Stock.

The stock of goods in Barnes' jewelry store is largely new and is exceedingly varied and choice. It includes a large quantity of cut glass and sterling silverware in colonial styles, also tea sets of colonial patterns. There is a full stock of watches and diamonds for the holiday trade and a full assortment of all kinds of goods included in the jewelry trade. The store never looked more inviting, and goods will be sold on very close margins this year, as Mr. Barnes is determined to move a large quantity between now and January 1 if good goods at low prices will do the business, and it usually does.
A little time can be profitably spent in looking through the old, popular and reliable store.

A TOTTERING THRONE.

Speedy Reform Necessary to Avoid the Downfall of Turkey.Kiamil Pasha's "Exile" and What It May Mean.Italy and France Give Out Some Highly Significant Statements.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 9.—The ambassadors of the powers do not regard the new Turkish ministry with favor, it is not expected to last long, and it is thought that it will be allowed to do nothing worth mentioning toward clearing the political atmosphere.

The rumors of palace conspiracies which have been in circulation for months past continue to be spread about. The name of the deposed sultan, Mohammed Murad, removed from the throne, as he was alleged to be suffering from ill-health, is once again mentioned as a possible candidate for the throne. There are many people who believe the deposed sultan is quite as sane as the present ruler of the Ottoman empire, Abdul Medjid.

Then, of course, the name of the heir-apparent, Mohammed Rehad, is heard mentioned as likely to shortly succeed his uncle, the present sultan, but the report has been in circulation for months past.

In fact, it was said some time ago that the present sultan had half offered to resign in favor of Mohammed Rehad; but, it is said, the representatives of the powers did not look upon this as likely to prove any solution of the complicated situation, and the matter was allowed to drop.

The difficulty does not rest in individuals—one sultan is about as bad or good as another—it is the system of government in the Turkish empire which is to blame for all the trouble, and unless there is a decided change in that direction there will be no improvement in the condition of the Armenians or Turks.

Corruption in High Places.
The appointment of Grand Vizier Kiamil Pasha, decidedly a well-meaning man, of Aleppo, is regarded here as being only another way of sending him into exile. He may not be exiled, but he will not be allowed to return from Aleppo until it suits the Porte. He is charged with many crimes, but the substance of it seems to be that he has been made a scapegoat for the sin and lack of energy of others. The sultan has had to do something; so, he changed his grand vizier and turned over his cabinet. He may have gained some time by so doing; but that seems to be about all.

It would be as difficult to conceive the condition of mind which brought the sultan to appoint such a deplorable cabinet as to describe the consternation it has produced everywhere.

The grand vizier is perhaps the least objectionable of the ministers here, but his capabilities are small. Tewfik Pasha is a nonentity. Abdul Rahman and Moudoukh are a couple of fanatics.
Moudoukh's attitude for unclean work has raised him high in the esteem of the sultan, and places him facile princeps at the head of the political party.

In addition to the exile of Kiamil Pasha, it is reported that a number of persons have been exiled to Anatolia, but it is difficult to get at the truth in such matters, as people reported "exiled" sometimes find their way to the bottom of the Bosphorus.

The Turkish troops are being concentrated at Marash for an advance on Zetoun as soon as the military preparations are completed.
Further private reports received here from Diarbekir estimate the number of Armenian victims of the recent massacres there at 5000. It is believed that this number is in excess of the actual total of those killed, but there seems to be no doubt that the victims are numbered by the thousands.

Ominous Utterances.
LONDON, Nov. 9.—A dispatch to The Times from Rome, referring to the gravity of Turkish affairs, says that Italy is in perfect accord with England, and that the Italian fleet is ready to co-operate with the English fleet wherever the interests of European peace may need it.

The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily News, writing of the intervention of the French ambassador in the matter of the Diarbekir riot, says: "Hearing that the French subjects in Diarbekir were in danger, M. Cambon, French ambassador, sent to the Porte in the middle of the night to say that if any French citizen was killed he would insist upon having the governor's head. It is alleged that Kiamil Pasha's dismissal from the office of grand vizier was due to his having demanded certain administrative powers formerly pertaining to the grand vizier, but long in abeyance."

A dispatch to The Chronicle from Rome says that the Corriere del Mattino of Naples has advised to the effect that the Marquis of Salisbury has confidentially proposed to the powers the dismemberment of Turkey.

A Berlin dispatch to The Chronicle says that The Vossische Zeitung has news from Bucharest that fresh massacres have occurred in the village of Erzerum, and that many villages have been burned and pillaged, and enormous numbers killed.

Suspected of Murder.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Sergeant John Hutton of the Delancy street police station believes that one of the three masked men who entered Walters Bros.' saloon early yesterday morning, and one of whom shot Popo, has been arrested. The prisoner gave his name as Raymond Kroy, 18 years old, of Boston.

Leprosy in Gotham.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Two lepers have been discovered in Chinatown. They are said to be Nip Shing and Shen Fook.
Nip Shing, it is stated, has been in the country for 20 years. He has been in New York only three weeks, having come from Pittsburg. Fook is said to have come from Pittsburg also.

Burial of Mrs. Eustis.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 9.—The remains of the late Mrs. James B. Eustis, wife of the American ambassador to France, arrived here from Europe yesterday afternoon.
The body was conveyed to Cave Hill cemetery, where the interment took place.
The services at the grave were simple.

Self Destruction.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—W. H. Collier, a man apparently of some means, shot and killed himself last evening in a stationroom on the steamer Norfolk, just before it left the city for Norfolk.

President Has Gone.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 9.—The shoe factory of the Bentley Shoe Company, at Caropenin has been closed by creditors, and the retail store in this city and the one in Rochester are in the same condition. Eben D.
Bentley, the president, has left for parts unknown.

Over 184,000 Votes to Sparr.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from every county in the state show that a total vote of 738,690 was cast on Tuesday for the Republican and Democratic candidates for state treasurer, Haywood having a plurality of 184,102.

BRICE'S SUMMING UP.

People Dissatisfied With General Policy of Democratic Party.Gain For Sound Money by Recent Elections.How the Party Changes Will Affect Vote of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—"The results of the election of 1895 make it almost certain that the nominee of the next Republican national convention will be elected president," said Calvin S. Brice. A reporter asked him how the election would affect our presidential politics, and Mr. Brice made answer as quoted above. The senator continued:

"If the next president is not a Republican, the last election has at least added very much to the interest that will be felt in the deliberations of the Republican convention. Who will be nominated? Well, Mr. McKinley is a charming gentleman, popular and probably as magnetic as any of the candidates."

To the reporter's suggestion that the public would like to know the senator's explanation for the result in Ohio, Mr.
Brice said: "Ohio did just what the other states did. The result in Ohio was no different from what it was in New York, Maryland or Kentucky. The people seem dissatisfied with the general policy of the Democratic party, and no local argument has any effect on the national public. General Foraker will be elected to succeed me as senator, and what I shall do does not concern the public."

The reporter asked Mr. Brice if President Cleveland's policy was to blame for the Democratic disaster. The senator said: "No; I don't think Mr. Cleveland is blamed personally for the tidal wave.
Still, he will have to bear his share of the blame as being part of the national organization and leadership of the Democratic party."

"How about Gorman?" asked the reporter.
"Gorman, Gorman is all right. Quasi was twice beaten worse than Gorman was last Tuesday, and he seems to be doing pretty well. Mr. Senator Gorman is not unpopular, and the man who thinks he is is very badly mistaken."

The Sound Money Cause.
For many years the United States senate has been the Gibraltar of the free silverites, while the house of representatives, more directly responsive to the people's will, has been a much better guardian of the interests of sound currency.

The equal representation in the senate, which gave to the small silver states in the west the same voice as the populous eastern sound money states, has in large part brought this condition about. The bill for the repeal of the Sherman act readily passed the house by a large majority, but met a long and bitter struggle in the senate. Hence the longing of the recent election upon the silver strength of the upper house is of preminent importance.

The terms of 29 United States senators expire on March 4, 1897, and the states which they represent are in process of choosing their successors. These senators owed their election to a period of great Democratic activity, in the years of 1890 and 1891, and hence of the 29 now retiring, 15 are Democrats, 12 Republicans and 1 Independent—Kyle—and 1 Farmers' Alliance—Peffer.

Of the 15 Democrats of the class whose terms expire in 1897, North Carolina has already, through the death of Senator Vance, turned the seat over to a Republican—Populist fusion. Four more Democrats are practically retired by the vote of Tuesday, namely, Gibson, Blackburn, Brice and Hill. Three other Democrats seem equally certain to fall in the vote of next year, unless present conditions are reversed, and their states are Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana.

There is a distinct gain for sound money in the case of Blackburn, who has been one of the most conspicuous advocates of silver men. He will, without doubt, be succeeded by a sound money man. In New York and Ohio the Republican succession will make no change in the attitude of its representation on the currency issue.

So of the four party changes already decided there is a practical net gain of one for the sound money cause. Other party changes may develop, as the elections continue, in choosing the class of 1897 successors, but it is hard to see how the silver alignment will be altered.

Setback For Silverites.

Vilas has been for sound money, and there is not the slightest chance that either party in Wisconsin would send anyone here who was not. Yet of Missouri may be displaced by a sound money man, but the chances of this seem remote.

Voorhees of Indiana is likely to retire from public life unless the Democracy of Indiana find some way of storming the state might place in the upper national house a man whose adherence to correct notions of finance would be more secure and reliable. Pugh of Alabama, a silver man, may be defeated by Clarke, an administration Democrat, and in full accordance with the sound money program. Cameron of Pennsylvania has hitherto allied himself with the extreme free silver people, and although misrepresenting his state in this attitude, will probably be able to hold his place in the senate if he cares to do so. Louisiana has one gold man, Caffery, and one free silverite, Blanchard, in the senate, and the latter's term expires in 1897. Here again is a possible chance for a change.

Some of the Georgia Democrats have been pretty regular in their administration support, and it is unlikely that Geo-gia would now elect a free silver man to the senate in any event. Utah is likely to send two Republican free silver men to the senate, but taken as a whole, the sound money cause has lost nothing by the elections of Tuesday in the place of its greatest need, and has already made material gains, with more in prospect.

Thompson in Custody.

DETROIT, Nov. 9.—The dead body of James B. Thomas, a machinist, was taken from the ruins of The Journal building last evening. This is the 37th body recovered, and according to the list of missing was the last body left in the wreck.
Engineer Thomas W. Thompson is under arrest at Grace hospital.

From American Purges.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Armenian Relief association of this city cabled yesterday to the relief committee in London £400 sterling for the sufferers in Sassoun.

As Anticipated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A mass meeting of Cuban sympathizers was held here last evening. The audience was not as large as it might have been, but enthusiasm was not lacking.

Bad Freight Wreck.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 9.—A freight train was wrecked yesterday by an open switch at Morning View. William Headson was killed. Seven cars were demolished.

As Anticipated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The sentence of Theodore Durrant was yesterday postponed two weeks.

CASE I.

How I have been afflicted for the past 12 years every adult inhabitant of Mid-dlerboro knows. For the last 3 months, my lameness had become so distressing that I was drawn over my head on a level with my hips, and could scarcely stand on my feet only by resting my hand on one leg for support. For more than 11 years I have been sorely afflicted with kidney, rheumatism, and bladder difficulties, the latter of which, 5 years' standing, has been helped by Dr. Sweet's remedy, and with all, I have been obliged to go about my work with one other man would have given up in despair. I had imagined that there was no cure for me, and had about given up all hope. After three weeks' treatment, I left off the hand support, was able to employ a cane, with marked improvement in walking, and now after 5 weeks' treatment, I have thrown aside my staff and walk erect. The kidneys have recovered in a great measure their function, while the bladder is greatly improved. To see me walking erect again, after being so long a cripple, has created more talk in Middleboro than raising the dead itself. I am being congratulated on every hand. You all know me. No one can conceive how great is my gratitude and relief.
Middleboro, Mass., Feb. 17, 1895.

AUSTIN LOVELL.

CASE II.

Lame and crippled and unable to walk from birth, pronounced not only incurable, but that he could not be helped.
The undersigned will gladly answer brief inquiries. Please enclose stamp.
Dr. Sweet—Dear Sir: Your "Sweet Method" is truly wonderful. I would advise all who are afflicted to call upon you for help. You know how feeble our child was when he was first brought to you for treatment; he could not walk, could only creep, though 3 years of age; could only recline on the floor when at play; he was afflicted with spinal trouble, infantile paralysis, also a very bad posterior curvature of the spine, giving a dwarfed appearance to his little back and chest. We had ceased to hope for anything better, as he had been treated regardless of expense, but yet of no avail; and now, after being under your treatment, he walks all the time; in fact, can take quite a walk, and runs and plays with other children.
You have done wonders for the child. Everyone exclaims at the great change in his looks and actions, and asks what produced such an effect. I will tell you all, Dr. Sweet. We shall be pleased to offer words of encouragement to those similarly afflicted, in as strong language as we can employ. Believers we ever gratefully yours, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. BUL-LOCK, Lynn, Sept. 5.

CASE III.

Cure of a lad, wife
of a leading merchant
of Providence, R. I.,
of a confirmed case of Strumous Synovitis of the knee joint, in only three months.
30 Westminster St., Providence, R. I., Nov. 23, 1895.

Dr. PRESTON SWEET—Dear Sir: Some few months since I addressed you a letter, leaving to you the no doubt agreeable tidings of the complete and unqualified success attending your treatment of the case of Mrs. E. T. Trip-ple, and in the letter I requested of you the acceptance of a testimonial of your skill and wonderful success connected therewith, as a slight token of our appreciation of your valuable services. Under ordinary circumstances, Mrs.
T. would shrink from the publicity which attends the discussion of her case; but our gratitude to you and interest in others similarly afflicted must justify the action. Having had several years' experience with this case, which I believe to have been one of the most obstinate of joint diseases imaginable, I can fully estimate how valuable must be the service rendered that restored the limb to its original usefulness, and the lameness to as well as ever. In 1889, Mrs. T. first complained of the difficulty, and it passed on unheeded. It became so troublesome that we were alarmed. Eminent physicians were consulted, but all to no purpose;
it continued to grow worse until we consulted
you. For years one limb was seriously contracted, and the joint so inflamed as to necessitate the use of crutches. While in Boston, we heard of the remarkable cures associated with your name. We went to see you, and upon examination, you assured us of success; you have made your record good after others had failed.
Since following, only three months after you took charge of the case, she could walk as well as ever; and for this priceless service, she offers this as small tribute of gratitude, and thanks.
A. F. TRIPPLE.

BELLOWS FALLS, VT.,
Nov. 2, 1895.
Dr. SWEET—Dear Sir:

I write you at this time to let you know how thankful Mrs. L. and myself are that I made your acquaintance last spring; and we both feel that you have helped her from the dead, for I have no doubt that she would not have lived until this time if you had not treated her case as you did. After more than three (3) years' suf-
not get on her feet, you cured her. I have told of the case and caused the terrible pains she had in the marrow of her bones, in both limbs, to cease, and by your personal effort and hard labor you made the limbs straight, which were so bent she could hardly touch the floor. This was done in less than six months' treatment.
She has used no crutches or cane for the past six weeks, and goes to call on her neighbors, and enjoys life again. We know of your success, and hope you may be spared many years to treat and cure the many cases that are all over the country. I have sent many friends to you, and I know they have been helped. Trusting you and your family are well and that we may see you again, I remain, respectfully yours,
C. K. LABAREE.

The Latest! BELLOWS FALLS, VT., Sept. 5, 1895.

Dr. PRESTON SWEET—Dear Sir: I wish to advise you of the rapid recovery of Mrs. Labaree's case, and how your remedies and taken according to your directions. She was unable to walk from

only incurable, but that he could not be helped.
The undersigned will gladly answer brief inquiries. Please enclose stamp.
Dr. Sweet—Dear Sir: Your "Sweet Method"
is truly wonderful. I would advise all who are afflicted to call upon you for help. You know
brought to you for treatment; he could not
walk, could only creep, though 3 years of age;
could only recline on the floor when at play; he
was afflicted with spinal trouble, infantile pa-
little back and chest. We had ceased to hope
gardless of expense, but yet of no avail; and
walk, and runs and plays with other children.
effect. I will tell you all, Dr. Sweet. We shall be pleased to offer words of encourage-
gratefully yours, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. BUL-LOCK, Lynn, Sept. 5.

CASE III.

of a leading merchant
of Providence, R. I.,
of a confirmed case of Strumous Synovitis of
the knee joint, in only three months.
30 Westminster St., Providence, R. I., Nov. 23, 1895.

Dr. PRESTON SWEET—Dear Sir: Some few
your treatment of the case of Mrs. E. T. Trip-
ple, and in the letter I requested of you the ac-
token of our appreciation of your valuable services. Under ordinary circumstances, Mrs.
T. would shrink from the publicity which attends the discussion of her case; but our grati-
several years' experience with this case, which I believe to have been one of the most obstinate
of joint diseases imaginable, I can fully esti-
that restored the limb to its original usefulness,
and the lameness to as well as ever. In 1889, Mrs. T. first complained of the difficulty,
and it passed on unheeded. It became so troublesome that we were alarmed. Eminent physicians were consulted, but all to no purpose;
it continued to grow worse until we consulted
you. For years one limb was seriously con-
the use of crutches. While in Boston, we heard
nation, you assured us of success; you have
made your record good after others had failed.
this as small tribute of gratitude, and thanks.
A. F. TRIPPLE.

BELLOWS FALLS, VT.,
Nov. 2, 1895.
Dr. SWEET—Dear Sir:

I write you at this time to let you know how
that you have helped her from the dead, for I
had in the marrow of her bones, in both limbs,
was done in less than six months' treatment.
She has used no crutches or cane for the past six weeks, and goes to call on her neighbors,
and enjoys life again. We know of your suc-
may see you again, I remain, respectfully yours,
C. K. LABAREE.

The Latest! BELLOWS FALLS, VT., Sept. 5, 1895.

Dr. PRESTON SWEET—Dear Sir: I wish to
ree's case, and how your remedies and
